

Example: I am throwing a ball straight up from the top Prudential center, which is 750 ft high, at an initial velocity of 25 ft/second. The function modeling height as a function of time is:

$$h(t) = -16t^2 + 25t + 750$$

What is the derivative of height (velocity)? 2nd derivative of height (acceleration)?